Parents Talking to Teens about Sex — North Carolina 2007

The North Carolina Child Health Assessment and Monitoring Program (NC CHAMP) is a surveillance system that collects information about the health characteristics of children from age 0 to 17 years. NC CHAMP is a follow-up survey of the Behavioral Risk Factor Surveillance System (BRFSS) which is a telephone survey of adults, ages 18 and older. All adult respondents with children living in their household are invited to participate in the CHAMP survey. One child is randomly selected from the household and the adult most knowledgeable about the health of the selected child is interviewed in a follow-up survey. This surveillance update includes data collected in 2007 on 1,051 parental surveys of children ages 12 to 17. Results presented here are for parents who responded “yes” to the question: “Have you or other members of your family ever talked with your child about what you expect them to do or not do when it comes to sex?” Percentages are weighted to population characteristics.
